

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The purpose of this study was to evaluate the effectiveness of a youth discipleship program offered by Pan Africa Christian University. The study analyzed various aspects of the program to establish whether it had clearly stated objectives in line with the organizational objectives and whether the overall program led to strong character and spiritual formation in its participants.

The purpose of the study was also to provide the university and department leadership with evaluative information that can be useful for revising and improving the program. The assessment results indicated that the Youth Discipleship Program is highly effective in offering youth a unique opportunity to deepen their faith, discover their purpose, unearth their gifting and help them begin the exciting journey of nurturing them to Christian maturity. A particular indicator is the transformation through the program resulting in leadership appointment for the participants after the training.
